"Eben Holden" is a story of pastoral plainness, of rugged and picturesque honesty, a love story that is beautiful for its simplicity, a mirroring of the doings and sayings of people as unique as they are interesting. It is a better play than "The Old Homestead," it is a better play than "David Harum." There is no more lovable character on the stage than that of old Uncle Eben, quaint, honest and generous, beloved by all because his mission in life is to make others happy. As portrayed by Henry Horton, it is a characterization that is worthy to rank with the best efforts of James A. Herne, Denman Thompson and others, who have made the rural drama their own. "Eben Holden" will be the attraction at the Barre opera house next Monday, March 20th.

Mrs. Mary Prestini and Family.

Coffee Test.

If you have reason to suspect that your coffee is adulterated—and on general principles we have reason to suspect adulterations in all foods—throw a handful of the beans in cold water. The real coffee beans will sink, while the spurious ones will float or remain suspended for some time.

Took It Literally.

In Tunbridge Wells, England, a man read in his Bible the passage, "And if thy right hand offend thee cut it off," and at once went into his yard, took a cleaver and chopped his right hand off.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION.
